Web 2.0

Web 2.0 can be useful for people who want quick access to web applications such as Pandora, Facebook, YouTube, ESPN, Orbitz, and Zappos.com. I did not know it existed until now and I do not know why it exists. It seems like a waste of time to me; however, maybe I am viewing it the wrong way. It is a site that is used to take people to the site they want to go to like icons that are on your desktop. It can be helpful because you will not need to click the internet button and type in the web address; because that take forever.
